BIOGRAPHY

Mr. Rygorsky is a highly capable lawyer with over two decades of practical legal experience. His eye for detail, creativity, and ability to digest complex statutory and regulatory schemes allow him to expertly advise clients on how to navigate thorny legal issues. His straightforward, no-nonsense approach allows him to step into business disputes to help clients obtain favorable non-litigation resolutions. His creativity and analytical thinking skills allow him to efficiently and effectively understand contractual rights and obligations to assist clients in understanding their universe of options in enforcing or terminating agreements. Mr. Rygorsky takes a broad view of the practice of law, regularly assisting partners in the real estate and corporate groups to serve their clients' needs.

Mr. Rygorsky litigation regularly involves the handling of a wide range of real property disputes, including landlord/tenant, easement/boundary disputes, and issues stemming from a purchase agreement. As a tax/regulatory practitioner, Mr. Rygorsky has prosecuted and defended claims from start to finish at the state and local level across the country, including preparing administrative complaints; preparing requests for refund; drafting and filings writs of mandamus; and litigating claims before the trial and appellate court. As a business incubator, specializes in assisting clients design business models on the front end to resolving issues relating to alleged non-compliance on the back end. As a problem solver, he helps negotiate agreements and resolutions to disputes before litigation becomes necessary. As a litigator, he fights hard to defend his clients' rights/interest to the fullest and pulls no punches.

Mr. Rygorsky is an avid sports fan, regularly attending Dodgers and Lakers games. Mr. Rygorsky is also a support of the arts, and is a long-time season pass holder for the LA Opera.
